Important

Test Reports (✓) is not implying that all products made by the supplier are by default compliant with all product regulations and labelling requirements in the destination country. Instead, it means that the supplier claims to have made compliant products, either via a written statement on their website or by uploading test reports.

Likewise, other Check marks (✓) on the following two pages don't imply that we have verified the supplier's claim concerning QMS certification, CSR Audits Reports, or other selection criteria

Next step: Follow the instructions in task 2.2 Request for Quotation (RFQ) to request quotations from the suppliers listed in this document.

Do you guarantee that the suppliers in the report are reliable?

Suppliers cannot be classified as consistently 'reliable' or 'unreliable'. While we filter suppliers based on the selection criteria to find the most qualified companies, the outcome depends entirely on how the process as a whole is managed. There are also other supplier related risks to be taken into consideration that can never be eliminated by our selection criteria. Here are a few examples:

- Failure to produce a satisfying product sample
- Quality issues during production
- Failure to adhere to initial quotations
- Frauds perpetrated by individual employees (e.g. payment scams)
- Supplier bankruptcy
- IP theft

Our selection is based on an assessment - which cannot reasonably predict every single outcome. Do not assume that the suppliers listed in this report are by default and in every situation 'reliable' or 'quality' suppliers.

Based on what criteria do you shortlist suppliers?

Supplier selection is based on publicly available company information. This includes registered capital, certification, test reports, and product scope. We also apply different criteria depending on the product category and industry.

Note that we can only reflect actual market conditions. We cannot bend reality and source manufacturers that don't exist or identify suppliers offering below market prices or MOQ requirements.

Step 1: Determine supplier type

Once we receive your sourcing request we determine which type of supplier we should target. We also set our selection criteria:

- Product Scope
- ISO 9001: Yes / No / Preferred
- BSCI or Sedex: Yes / No / Preferred
- Test Reports: Yes / No / Preferred
- Registered Capital: Min XXX
- Location: City, Province, Country

Step 2: Supplier shortlist

We usually review suppliers on B2B supplier directories to identify 6 to 8 suppliers matching our criteria.

We cannot select suppliers based on the following criteria:

- Product design
- Price
- MOQ

Step 3: Supplier List (PDF) Delivered

We normally deliver the Supplier List (PDF) via email within 3 to 5 days.
